

Recruitment: English Teacher

L'École Aujourd'hui – School for Today, co-ed, private primary school founded by teachers in 1975 and located in the 14th arrondissement of Paris, is seeking a passionate, flexible, and dedicated English Teacher to join our dynamic team.

This part-time CDD position involves teaching children aged 3–11 in a classroom environment, beginning at the end of August 2026.

The successful candidate will:

- Deliver engaging lessons in compliance with the French national education curriculum
- Prepare and assess student work, providing constructive and supportive feedback
- Participate actively in weekly team meetings, school events, and collaborative planning
- Organize and accompany students on domestic and/or international school trips

Candidates must:

- Be a native English speaker or have equivalent proficiency
- Hold a Bachelor's degree or higher (Early Childhood Education, Primary Education, English, Child Development, or related field preferred)
- Have hands-on classroom experience in early years or primary education
- Possess excellent communication and classroom management skills
- Already hold the full legal right to work in France (EU citizenship, valid student status for 2025–2026, or a permanent work permit).

Please note: the school cannot arrange visas or work authorization.

Speaking French is not mandatory, but understanding it is recommended.

Working Conditions:

Schedule: Tuesday, Thursday and Monday/Friday, (3 days/ week, 18 teaching hours/ week, plus additional hours for team meetings and professional development)

Gross salary: Based on experience.

Interested candidates should email their application letters and CV to english.ecoleaujourd'hui@gmail.com

All information provided will be used exclusively for recruitment purposes.